

New York to Black Mountain. The City of Asheville is fifteen miles from the College.

The College lake is bordered on the south by the dining hall, with a dining porch; on the north, by the new studies building erected with student and faculty labor. The living quarters of the College students include two dormitory buildings with bedrooms for two, three and more persons.

Members of the Black Mountain College community take care of their own rooms.

At Black Mountain College teachers and students live on the campus. They have their meals together in the dining hall. Thus there is a constant personal contact among students and teachers.

The College farm supplies milk, meat, and vegetables to the College kitchen.

Clothing appropriate for walking in the mountains and for working outdoors should be provided, as well as ordinary city clothes suitable for this climate. Evening dresses are worn at dances and concerts.

COURSES

The following courses were offered during all or part of the 1945-46 session and represent, in a somewhat limited way, the area covered in a given year. The curriculum for 1946-47 will be expanded, since additions will be made to the faculty. In many cases additional courses are given when there is sufficient demand for them. Tutorials for advanced students are given when need arises, and are not listed below.
